LEE HOUSE OPENING HERE SUCCESSFUL

Canadian Teachers, on Visit to City, Represented

Among Guests. Aided materially by the presence bers of the Canadian Teachers' Convention, representing the London and Toronto division, the Lee House, Washington's newest hotel, will accommodate approximately 300 guests on this its second night of business, according to F. W. Bergman, manager.

The hotel, which is located at the northwest corner of 15th and L streets, threw its doors open night before last, when a large number of Washingtonians availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the building, modern in every conception, and containing 250 rooms, all of which have private baths.

The building has been constructed on the court plan, so that all rooms have an outside exposure.

The roomy lounge-lobby, which extends the full length of the 15th street side of the building, has a decidedly homelike appearance, and is one of the chief features. Situated on the terraza floor, a short step below the street level, is a Pompefian dining room, which will be run on the a la carte plan at all times. Sunlit, airy rooms, with every up-to-date appointment, together with the close proximity of the hotel to the business section of the city, are other decided features.

Mr. Bergman was former manager of the Statler Hotel at Detroit, and later was general manager of several of the Canadian Pacific railroad's chain of hotels, having served as head of the Grand Trunk line's houses, and also took charge of hotels run by the Grand Trunk Pacific Company. He has with him at the Lee House a staff of 150 employes. The Kenwood Corporation is the owner.

Mr. Bergman will also manage the New Hamilton Hotel, at 14th and K streets, now being constructed by the Hamilton Hotel Company of New

BURCH LAUGHS AT JUROR.

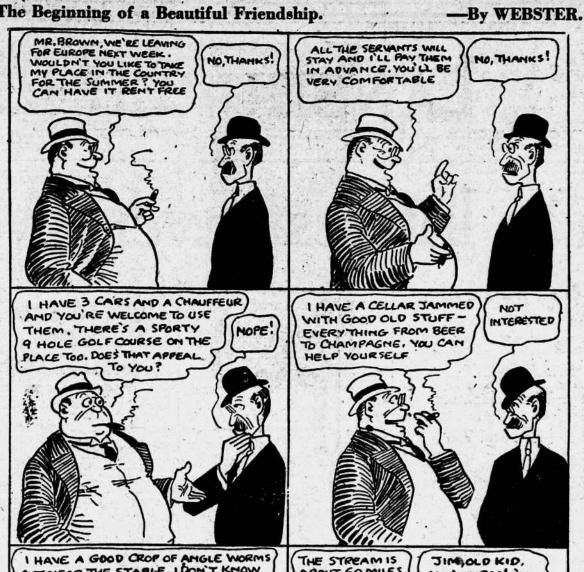

Woman Called Says She Would Never Vote to Hang Young Man. Never Vote to Hang Young Man.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 14.—
Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, laughed heartily when Mrs. Frederick S. Lyon, on the venire from which it was hoped a jury would be obtained, frankly declared in court she would "never vote to hang a young man."

She was not accepted—even temporarily—but three other women were temporarily passed and in the jury box for the opening of court today, when counsel were to resume the task of examining talesmen. Nine men were in the box, too, but one was under examination.

EPISCOPAL CHURCHES TO HOLD ELECTIONS

Following Usual Custom, Vestry to Be Voted on at Congregational Meeting.

Vestrymen to serve during the ensuing year will be elected by the congregational meetings in the sev-congregational meetings in the several Episcopal churches Monday night. Church wardens will also be named.

Tracing the custom of elections of such officers to the early days of American colonization shows that since 1788 the church law on this question has changed but little.

It is the law of the church that the first Monday after Easter the congregations assemble and all of those who are eligible cast their votes for the men who are to serve on the governing body for the year. One peculiar phase of the custom is that the law provides that of the eight lay members of the vestry four be voted off and then the meeting will proceed to elect four additional men to take their places.

In previous years immediately after the election of the new vestry the rector, who is always a member of the body, called the vestry together and two wardens were appointed. and two wardens were appointed.

These men, whose duty it is to keep watch over the church property, were by reason of their election given police authority in the confines of the church property and might proceed against divers and sundry citizens who might interrupt the conduct of services within the church. In recent years this authority has been taken from the church wardens.

U. S. GENERAL, JAILED FOR FRAUD

LONDON, April 13 .- Otto Stephane, a German, born in Malmedy, Rhenish Prussia, but who is said to have fought against the Germans during the world war, yesterday was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for returning to England after having been deported last year as an undusirable alien. Shortly after the armistice Stephane, otherwise known as Stephen Victor Otto Joseph de Benny, alias Viscomte de Benny, is reported to have posed as a Belgian major and to have conferred the Belgian military medal on Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen, commanderin-chief of the American army of occupation, before the assembled American troops at Coblenz.

Stephane was arrested last week after having sent a code telegram from Southampton to the commandant of military aviation at Brussels. He appeared in court today wearing the uniform of an officer of the Belgian army, and had more than a dozen orders and ribbons on his breast. He explained to the court that he had returned to England in an endeavor to do some business. The magistrate asked if there was anything to be said in the prisoner's favor and a police inspector replied:

"Yes, your honor. Undoubtedly he has been a brave soldier who fought against the Germans. I believe he is entitled to the Belgian decorations and the medal militaire, the croix de guerre and the commemoration medals. He also says he has the St. George's
